Subject: Steering Control Levers

There have been isolated reports in the field of cracking, bending and/or breakage of steering control levers at their mounting area. Two kits have been developed to correct the situation. One kit contains two new steering levers and grips and the other contains a stiffener kit. For units with bent levers, both kits must be ordered. For new or undamaged units the stiffener kit is all that is required. All units in the specified serial number ranges should be inspected and repaired or updated as necessary.

Important:

It is not recommended to use the steering control levers for support when mounting or dismounting the unit, as this may cause stress to the levers. The preferred method would be to board the unit from the front, between the casters, using the seat for support.
